LIVE STREAMING POLICY – JANUARY 2024

Virtual worship is becoming a normal part of everyday church life. Allesley Park Evangelical Church is committed to ensuring the safety of these activities for those participating.

We livestream Sunday morning services on YouTube. Videos are accessible via the Church Website, Facebook and YouTube.

Adults and Children will not be identified by the use of full names during the service.

We have displayed prominent notices in the building indicating that we are live streaming. We will make every effort to ensure visitors and newcomers are aware that we are livestreaming. We would hope that anyone who has a real necessity not to be on camera would make themselves known to the Welcome Team or Trustees.

Our Camera's are located in the middle of the Church building and may sometimes show a rear-view shot of the back of people's heads in the first three rows of the congregation. People are advised to sit behind the front three rows of the congregation to avoid this happening.

Those people involved in the front on Sunday Morning Services will have a completed a GDPR Consent form. People under the age of 18, or vulnerable adults, will have a GDPR Consent form completed by a parent/guardian in order to be involved.

Any videos that are recorded are saved on a secure password protected folder and files kept in line with our data protection policy. Only trained volunteers at APEC, will undertake live streaming, and have access to the folder, and will sign up to adhere to the Live Streaming Policy.

If you have any concerns, or want to report an incident, please contact the Safeguarding Lead.

Please note that you are not obliged to give your consent for video photography. If you consent and later wish to withdraw, you are entitled to ask us to remove your images from YouTube.
